Message from the President of EUCASS

Dear colleagues and friends,

It is my great pleasure, as the new president of EUCASS, to invite you to the 11th conference in the incredible city of Rome. Where could it be better to celebrate our 20th anniversary than in the eternal city?

Please save the date and start practicing your Italian...

The Conference Center is second to none, and we are blessed with an exceptional high level Local Organizing Committee, fully dedicated, around Sapienza University, with Finsterrae, Telespazio, C.I.R.A., Thales Alenia Space Italia, Italian Space Agency, Lazio Innova, Avio...

This conference, organized by the non-profit association EUCASS, is one of the best attended conference on aeronautics and space sciences. The conference was launched in 2004 by dedicated scientists and engineers from Western Europe and Russia. Previous issues have been held in Moscow (2005), Brussels (2007), Versailles (2009), Saint Petersburg (2011), Munich (2013), Krakow (2015), Milano (2017), Madrid (2019), Lille (2022) and Lausanne (2023). Lausanne gathered 720 delegates from 43 countries, and 100 Technical Sessions with 600+ presentations were organized.

EUCASS 2025 represents an exceptional opportunity to reach a uniquely targeted audience and demonstrate your commitment to the future of aeronautics and space. Do not miss this chance to position your organisation at the forefront. We trust your presence at EUCASS 2025 is vital for all players and invite you to join us preparing it. Your organization can participate at various levels.

We are fully open to your ideas and suggestions concerning session topics, mini workshops, exhibitions,... We are willing to work with you and satisfy your needs and expectations. Please feel free to contact us if there are any questions.

We will soon come back to you with details on the technical content and rely on you to build a global program comparable in interest to our last editions.

More to come, let's keep in touch!

Christophe BONNAL EUCASS, President

The city of Rome | Why Rome?

Rome is renowned for its rich history and culture, making it one of the most beautiful and captivating tourist destinations. However, what may not be as widely recognized is the historical significance of Rome in the field of aerospace within Italy and Europe.

For nearly a century, Rome has been a hub for aerospace activities, dating back to the establishment of the aeronautical school for engineers and the Guidonia test facility, where pioneering advancements in compressible and especially supersonic flows were achieved even before World War II. Distinguished scientists such as GA Crocco, A. Ferri, L. Crocco, and L. Broglio initiated their careers in the Rome region and subsequently became mentors to future researchers both in Rome and internationally.

Today, Rome and its surrounding areas continue to preserve this aerospace heritage, boasting one of the highest concentrations of companies and institutions operating in the fields of space, including Avio, Thales Alenia Space Italia, Telespazio, as well as numerous small and medium-sized enterprises among companies and the Italian Space Agency headquarters and the ESA/ESRIN site among institutions. Furthermore, Rome is home to one of Italy and Europe's historic and largest aerospace engineering schools, Sapienza University.

There are several compelling reasons for selecting Rome as the host city for the conference.

These include the strong presence of both industrial and academic institutions in the aerospace sector, a significant number of anticipated Italian participants, the presence of national and international institutions, the cultural richness and beauty of the city, the availability of suitable venues for hosting the conference, and the potential for securing sponsorships.
